IMPORTANCE OF

The Gemara (Kidushin 40b) discusses how the world is judged based on a majority of its inhabitants, and how that majority is determined by each individual's initial status as half-Tzadik and half-Rasha. When such a person performs a mitzvah, he tips the scale for himself and the entire world to Zechus; when he does an aveirah, he tips it to Chovah. However, the Rambam (תשובה 3:2) states that the calculation is not based simply on numbers, for there are some mitzvos that are the equivalent of several aveiros, and vice-versa. The manner of sinning also increases the severity of the sin, just as overcoming difficulty and Mesiras Nefesh increase the value of mitzvos. Based on this, the Meforshim explain why, in spite of the fact that the majority of Bnei Yisroel do not observe Torah & mitzvos, the world continues to exist. It is because the difficulties faced by those who keep the Torah make their mitzvos much more valuable. This may be the meaning of ורבים ביד מעטים in Al HaNisim, where the Mesiras Nefesh of the few Chashmonaim outweighed the clear numeric majority of the MisYavnim (Hellenists) and the Jews who were otherwise afraid to observe the outlawed mitzvos. The Gemara (Yevamos 14a) states that the Halachah follows Beis Hillel because they were the numeric majority (quantity), although, Beis Shammai were permitted to do as they held because they were מחדדי טפי - sharper-minded (quality). This may explain why according to Beis Hillel we add a candle each night of Chanukah, while according to Beis Shammai we subtract. Since the choice of Beis Hillel was based on a numeric majority, and the result of the Chanukah miracle was to add back many of Bnei Yisroel to the group of Shomrei Mitzvos, that addition is represented by adding a candle each night. According to Beis Shammai, however, the result of Chanukah was a decrease in the quality of mitzvos, since Mesiras Nefesh was no longer as necessary. As such, Beis Shammai held that this would be represented by a steady subtraction of candles.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

Can one be Motzie another with a brocho, if the other person does not wish to be Yotzay at this time ?

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK:

(If one forgot Yaaleh V'Yavo, does his 2nd Shemona Esrei need a minyan ?)

It is certainly recommended, but R' Shlomo Zalman Auerbach says one need not travel a Mil to find a minyan for this, and a ruling in אז דברו (י"ד 37:3) states that a Ben Torah need not be Mevatel his learning to go search for a minyan in this case.

DIN'S CORNER:

According to those who light Chanukah candles shortly after the Shekiyah, where a boy will become Bar Mitzvah that night after Tzais, he should still light at his post-Shekiyah time rather than wait to become a Gadol after Tzais. He also davens Maariv with his regular minyan, even if pre-Tzais. (Teshuv V'Hanag 2:337)

DID YOU KNOW THAT

The Gemara (Nedarim 38a) states in the name of R' Yochanan that Hashem does not rest His Shechinah (to make someone a Navi) unless it is on one who is courageous, wealthy, wise and humble. However, the Rambam (7:1 יסודי התורה) states that the power of prophecy only rests on one who is extremely wise and master over his Midos. What happened to the other qualifications of R' Yochanan ? The Kesef Mishna answers that: 1) if we understand גבור and עשיר to reflect good Midos from Pirkei Avos (i.e. self-control and satisfaction with one's lot) then they are all included in mastery over one's Midos; or 2) if they mean actual, physical strength and wealth, then, as the Rosh explains, R' Yochanan's four attributes are for the "career" Navi, whereas the occasional Navi may receive prophecy even without them. This would explain why Pharaoh described Yosef to his servants as a man: אשר רוח אלוקים בו - with Hashem's [prophetic] spirit (see Targum Onkelos) in him, even though Yosef was obviously not wealthy, having just emerged from prison. Since Yosef wasn't a permanent Navi, he didn't need to be wealthy. This is also why Yosef is not listed among the 48 Neviim whose Nevuah was לדורות (see Rashi in Megilah 14a). The Rashba (4:234 ש"ת) also agrees that since Matan Torah was a prophetic experience for all of Klal Yisroel, they must have all been temporarily elevated to be able to receive the Aseres HaDibros. However, upon further analysis, the Rashba concludes that most, if not all miraculous events, simply point out to us how little we know of the potential power that Hashem put into nature. Even where the event seems to be inconsistent with natural law, it still presents itself in a natural setting, thus suggesting that an appropriate intellect will be able to comprehend it. For this reason, Pharaoh noted, following Yosef's interpretation of the dreams, אין נבון וחכם כמוך - there is no one more wise or understanding than you, since wisdom is always a pre-requisite, even to temporary Nevuah.

A Lesson Can Be Learned From:

A number of bochorim in Volozhin once formed a group to collect money for a Tzedaka cause. During one of their meetings, a few elderly Talmidei Chachomim overheard how successful their campaign had been and how much they had collected. These Chachomim held that it was worthwhile for them to join the group if only to stabilize it and prevent the bochorim from losing such a large amount. When they approached the bochorim with their plan, the bochorim replied that they would discuss it at their next meeting. The issue was presented and some bochorim said that they would have to accept the Chachomim since to refuse them would be a Bizayon. Besides, it was a Kavod to have them. Others contended that they would no longer be in charge. After arguing for a while, someone came up with the perfect Ikvisa D'Meshicha compromise: accept them, but change the group rules to say that the youngest members of the group always have the final say !
