IMPORTANCE OF

The Gemara (Avodah Zara 7b) states that one must always arrange Tefilah to first praise Hashem (שבחו של מקום) before making personal requests (ואח"כ תפלה). The saying of ברכו first, before Shemona Esrei, and even the order of Shemona Esrei itself illustrate the precedence of praising Hashem, before getting into the detailed requests in Shemona Esrei. The Gemara (Sofrim 10:7) states that Chazal instructed the Chazanim to say certain Tefilos, including a repetition of Borchu, בן גאולה לתפילה (after גאל ישראל, before Shemona Esrei). Others say that these were to be said after Shemona Esrei, rather than just before. What reason could the first Tanna have had to discard גאולה לתפילה to add these Tefilos in ? The B'Tzeil HaChochma (4:112) suggests that the first Tanna held that Borchu was שבחו של מקום which must come before Shemona Esrei. As such, it overrode the mandate of גאולה לתפילה. However, the other Tannaim did not wish to sacrifice גאולה לתפילה, and so they moved Borchu to after Shemona Esrei, noting that there is still some merit in saying praises after Shemona Esrei. See the Shulchan Aruch (אור"ח 52:1) and (אור"ח 236:3) where one may skip to reach Shemona Esrei with the Tzibur, and say what he skipped afterwards. The same basic concept should apply to Selichos as well. One who comes late to Selichos should join the Tzibur wherever they are up to, and if he can, he should go back later and say all the Selichos that he skipped. The סליחות המפורש notes that during the time of the Rishonim, the main part of Selichos was the Pesukim from TaNach (שומע תפילה עדיך) which should be said slowly. If one comes late and wishes to join the Tzibur where they are up to, he should first say Ashrei and שומע תפילה עדיך, and then jump to where the Tzibur is holding. Since there is value in the Selichos themselves as well, one should say them later, after the Tzibur finishes.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

When might a Katan receive Maftir on Shabbos Shuvah ?

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK:

(When might והאלוקים ניסה be read on the 1st day of Rosh HaShana ?)

The Chasam Sofer (אור"ח 169) describes a situation where the Baal Kriah mistakenly finished the first day's Kriah on the 4th Aliyah. The Rav instructed him to read 3 Pesukim of והאלוקים ניסה for the 5th Aliyah. When someone pointed out that what is usually done is to go back and repeat a few Pesukim, he explained how that is done when the next Pesukim are unrelated to the day. But since the Akeidah is mentioned in davening both days, it is appropriate.

DIN'S CORNER:

Any Taanis where the sun does not set before the fast is broken, is not deemed to be a fast. The setting sun is determined by where one is at the moment. Thus, when traveling west, such as from Uman to the United States on Tzom Gedalya, one should have to keep fasting until nightfall in the U.S. which is an extra 7-10 hours. (Igros Moshe 3:96)

DID YOU KNOW THAT

The Mishna (Rosh HaShana 29b) states that when Rosh HaShana fell on Shabbos, the Shofar would be blown "במקדש" but not elsewhere. This was due to a Rabbinic enactment, to prevent carrying of a Shofar in the Reshus HaRabim. Rashi understands במקדש to mean [only] in the Beis HaMikdash, excluding everywhere else, even Yerushalayim, whereas the Rambam understands במקדש to include Yerushalayim. The Mishna continues, that after the Churban, R' Yochanan b. Zakai decreed that the Shofar may be blown [on Shabbos] wherever there was a Beis Din. Rashi appears to understand Beis Din to mean only the Sanhedrin of 71, or a Beis Din of 23 judges. The Rambam held that the Dayanim must have original Semicha, and the RiF held that the presence of any Beis Din was sufficient to permit Shofar on Shabbos. In the year 5632, the Aruch LaNer cited the Gemara (ibid 16b) which states that any year in which the Shofar is not sounded at the beginning (on Rosh HaShana), there will be sounds of sorrow at the end of the year. He announced that those years in which Rosh HaShana fell on Shabbos were traditionally either very good or very bad. For example both Churbanos took place in such a year, and the Bnei Yisroel entered Eretz Yisroel in such a year. He therefore urged the Jews of Altuna to exert themselves in doing Teshuvah, to influence the year's direction. At the same time, R' Akiva Yosef Shlesinger was campaigning in Yerushalayim for support of the RiF's Psak, in order to institute Shofar-blowing on Shabbos in Yerushalayim. He was unsuccessful in convincing the Rav of Yerushalayim, R' Meir Auerbach to even consider it, so he waited a few years, and then re-presented his idea to the next Rav – R' Shmuel Salant (who was not against it), and to R' Yehoshua Leib Diskin. At least R' Yehoshua Leib convened a meeting to discuss it, concluding however, that they did not have a Halachic "Beis Din". 20 years later, he won total support from the Aderes, and arrangements were made to blow 30 blasts after Mincha. However, other prominent Rabonim (e.g. R' Yosef Chaim Sonnenfeld) were against it, so to avoid Machlokes, R' Akiva Yosef withdrew.

A Lesson Can Be Learned From:

A bochur came to a Rav with a difficult question. His parents had divorced, and his mother, out of bitterness and frustration had gone to court where she secured a judgment requiring the father to pay her a large sum of money each month. The bochur had been looking forward to a Seder on Pesach at the home of his Rosh HaYeshiva. However, his father had asked him to please get a waiter job in a hotel over Pesach and give him the earnings, with which he could pay the alimony and avoid prison. What should he do ? The Rav replied that he should do as his father said. "When a parent davens for a child's Hatzlachah, there is no more powerful aid, as it comes straight from the heart. This is why the Posuk says: למען יאריכון ימיו instead of יאריכו, since it is really the parents whose Tefilos will bring about אריכות ימים for the son. Do as your father asked. He will daven for your Hatzlachah, and you will merit many opportunities for many kinds of Sedarim".
